SWEET SKIPPER

GETS A SECOND CHANCE

Your kindness means the world to animals like Skipper

Your support provides lifesaving second chances to animals like Skipper, who arrived at Pasadena Humane after a terrible accident. When this sweet dog was found as a stray, it was clear that he had experienced horrible injuries.

Skipper had been found running along the side of a busy road, unable to put weight on his front leg. His body was covered in lacerations and painful puncture wounds. While we didn't know how Skipper ended up in this heartbreaking state, we knew that he desperately needed our help.

Thanks to your support, our veterinary team immediately got Skipper the care that he needed. He was rushed to our ICU, where we found that his front leg had been painfully dislocated, causing him immense swelling and pain when he tried to walk.

Our team carefully cleaned Skipper's wounds and provided medications to manage his pain. We skillfully fitted Skipper's injured leg into a brace, allowing him to heal without complications. The sweet boy was given a safe and comfortable space to rest as he began his road to recovery. Despite Skipper's hardships, he was now safe, happy, and ready for a fresh start at the life he deserved.

Your generosity allows us to provide lifesaving, specialty medical care to animals like Skipper, who come to Pasadena Humane in need of a miracle. Because of you and the resources you made possible, Skipper was adopted by a wonderful family. His injuries have fully healed, and he is now thriving in his loving forever home.

DEAR FRIEND,

Helping lost and homeless pets is core to our mission at Pasadena Humane. Last year, thanks to caring people like you, we provided safe shelter for 5,787 companion animals.

Many of these dogs, cats and critters came to us bruised and broken. While we can't always know the past traumas these loving souls have suffered, we can offer them the hope and joy of a new beginning.

At Pasadena Humane, we provide every animal who enters our shelter with exceptional care and dedication. From a day-old kitten to a senior dog, we welcome all pets in need with compassion and kindness.

It's because of generous folks like you that our health staff — led by a team of five shelter veterinarians — can provide lifesaving medical care and individualized training for the animals that need it.

Above all, our goal is for every adoptable animal to leave the shelter with a new, loving family. With your support, we can continue to make dreams come true for thousands of homeless pets in our community.

With gratitude,

ELFIE HITS THE JACKPOT AFTER SUCCESSFUL ADOPTION TRIAL

Your generosity gives harder-to-adopt pets a new “leash” on life through our Trial Adoption program. Trial Adoptions allow families to “test drive” a new pet for 10 days before officially adopting. During the Trial Adoption period, our dedicated staff provide extra resources and support to adopters to help their new pet make the transition from shelter to home.

Thanks to friends like you, we have found homes for some of our longest shelter residents through this program — including dogs like five-year-old Elfie, who was consistently overlooked in our kennels.

After months of waiting, Elfie finally hit the jackpot. A wonderful family came in looking for a friend for their resident dog, Tofu, who had been adopted from Pasadena Humane two years prior. They took Elfie home on a Trial Adoption to ensure he was a perfect match for their family.

Before long, the Trial Adoption became official, and Elfie had finally found his forever home!

WITH YOUR HELP, TINY KITTENS THRIVE

During kitten season, thousands of kittens come through our doors. Many are bottle babies—newborn, orphaned kittens, some as young as just one day old—who require around-the-clock care. Our dedicated foster volunteers prepare kitten milk replacement to feed these tiny felines every few hours, ensuring they get the nutrients needed to thrive.

Fostering a bottle baby can seem daunting at first, but thanks to your generosity, our foster team provides all the supplies and support necessary to care for these tiny kittens. “When I first took on bottle babies, I was so nervous,” recalls Ivy, a volunteer who has fostered numerous bottle babies for Pasadena Humane. “But the foster team was so kind and guided me every step of the way.”

Watching these vulnerable neonates turn into adoptable kittens over a matter of weeks is incredibly heartwarming. For foster volunteers like Ivy, it’s rewarding to see the kittens they raised from tiny babies go on to find loving adopters.

Our foster volunteers provide crucial care to the tiniest of kittens. We are only able to save the lives of these fragile felines thanks to the generosity of lifesaving heroes like you.

Your Caring Support Means A Second Chance For Tiny Kittens!

Kitten season at Pasadena Humane is in full swing! As the weather heats up, tiny kittens are arriving in need of special, around-the-clock care. Looking after them is a unique challenge for our staff and fosters, and we can’t do it without your help! By donating an item to our Kitten Nursery, you will provide vital resources to ensure each kitten can receive the lifesaving care that they need to grow into happy, healthy cats.
